Varied Agenda for Town Council

At a regular meeting of Town Council a request from West Park Developments Ltd. for water and sewer service installed in Block 104, 106 and 106 in the new subdivision south of the mobile home park, was given consideration.

It was decided to proceed with the installation in two stages, with Block 104 as the first stage. Further installation will be carried out as required, and based on conditions at the time.

Mr. Len Hogarth, representing West Park Developments Ltd., also offered to sell the town thirty-four lots in the subdivision at a price of $850.00 each. He suggested that town ownership would help to provide a means of control of lot prices in the area.

The offer was declined by council.

Paving tender for this year's work was awarded to the low bidder, Border Paving Ltd. of Red Deer. The bid price was $161,435. Work is now underway in several locations in the community.

A request by Mr. Len Bannard to locate a trailer on Lot 51, Plan 1296 NY, in the wooded area in the north east corner of town, was granted on a one-year basis.

The matter of awards to winners of provincial sports events was discussed and it was decided that winners, other than the Rebels and Bantam hockey teams who received jackets in recognition of their accomplishment, should also receive an appropriate award.

Council decided that the business of Roe Construction (1965) Ltd. is of the same status as others within the town that do their work outside of the town directed from a base in the community, and should be assessed the minimum business license fee of $50.00 a year.

A letter from the Senior Citizen Club suggesting re-location of the restroom was read. Council agreed that there was no possibility of moving the facility at the present time.

The secretary reported on the arrival of two students under the Ecology Corps program, with a third to arrive July 1st. Details of the program were reviewed and plans for the summer work discussed.

Church Services Feature Puppets

Rev. K. Smith of the Pentecostal Church in Drayton Valley reports considerable success with the use of puppets in keeping the attention of children in the presentation of Bible stories.

Mrs. Smith, shown above with the puppets, says a good story is not enough, but with puppets playing and speaking parts, the children direct their complete attention to the story.

The puppets, now playing an active part in church services, have also been popular at Vacation Bible Schools and at the annual summer camp. Some of them made an appearance on the Prince Albert TV station a year ago.

These puppets will be joined soon by several more who are just in the planning stages at present. (All are home made).

Lately these little fellows have had a special spot in the church's Sunday evening services. They have presented humorous stories but with spiritual truths coupled with back ground music and various sound effects.

Church should be for the entire family and the children seem to be enjoying this part of the service as have many of the adults.

R.J. ELLIOTT

SUB-MITS
FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Over the years, many people make an influence in our lives. One of these no doubt, is Mr. Robert J. Elliott. Mr. Elliott is retiring this year after 47 years of teaching. During this time he has been an active member of every community he has lived in. I asked him for a bit of his life history and here are a few highlights.

Robert Elliott was born in Peterborough County, Ontario 65 years ago. When he was six years he moved with his parents to a homestead in Alberta. The nearest village was Islay, Alberta, distance 24 miles. As this was a new district there was no school and one could not be built until eight children became of school age. This was not to occur for four years. In the meantime his mother who had taught school in Ontario acted as tutor besides performing the other duties of a homesteader's wife. For two years young Robert boarded in neighbouring school districts where school operated during the summer. This meant opening about April 1st and carrying on until the weather was too cold in the fall. These schools were called ungraded schools which meant that all grades from one to eight or even nine were taught in one room by one teacher.

High School, which meant grades nine to twelve, was taken in Vermilion 40 miles distant. Most of the students attended to the end of grade 11 and obtained a junior matriculation. It is interesting to note that there were only four grade 12 students in Vermilion which covered an area that has now at least seven high schools.

Normal School training was taken in Camrose. Calgary was the only other normal school operating in Alberta that year. The course began near the end of August and lasted until the end of April.

On May 11, 1924 Mr. Elliott began his teaching career at Tulliby Lake School in a pioneer area, where the people were short of cash but long in friendliness and hospitality. Many of them were Norwegian homesteaders. The school was in a Local Improvement District. This meant that a local secretary collected taxes and received some grants from the provincial government. The pay was $90.00 per month. The end of the month did not have any significance as far as pay was concerned. You received some pay if and when the secretary received money. You also shared your needs with others who had money owing. At that time there were two previous teachers being paid. The final check came about 1½ years after the year was completed. The school operated for six months per year. The other six months allowed the children to forget much of what they had learned.

Following this came three other rural one-room schools -- Earlie, Vanesti (home school) and Moyerton. The first graded school was Marwayne, a three-room school teaching grades one to twelve. Streamstown, a two-room school provided the first principalship. Waskatenau, a village school was the longest stand (14 years). Next came Lodgepole (9 years) and Drayton Valley Elementary for the last six years.

University attendance during July and half of August was spread over a period of 27 years and occupied probably ten years. Courses were taken in various subjects offered by the Department of Education as well as degree courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have two sons, Jim in Kamloops and Clarence in Edmonton. What does the future hold for the Elliotts? They plan to enjoy their friends and home in Drayton Valley. They also have plans for travelling. Our best wishes and thanks go to you folks from the many children of Alberta who have come under your guidance.

VEHICLES PASSING STOPPED SCHOOL BUSES

The following letter was received from Jubilee Insurance Agencies Limited regarding vehicles passing stopped school buses:-

"It was recently brought to our attention as a result of a court case, that charges against a motorist who had passed a stopped school bus (which had its alternating lights in operation) was dismissed.

The School Division objected to the dismissal but on close examination we find the Magistrate's ruling resulted from the fact that the lights were put in operation when the motorist was only about 300 feet from the bus and thus did not afford the motorist a reasonable chance to stop his vehicle giving consideration to the road conditions.

The Enforcement Division suggest that the alternating lights should not be activated until such time as traffic following has cleared sufficiently, that when the lights are activated, there will be sufficient time for said traffic to safely stop.

Another point of interest presented by the Court was that when a vehicle does pass a bus which has its alternating lights in operation, the bus driver should immediately leave his vehicle (naturally he will first set the brake and turn off the motor as required by law) to ascertain that the alternating lights were in operation. The Court also recommended that the driver complete the school bus report at that time, leaving no room for error. By immediately checking to be sure the flashing lights are operating correctly and by immediately completing the School Bus Report, several objectives will be achieved:-

1. It lights are in fact not working properly, additional caution can then be used during the balance of the run thus perhaps avoiding an accident.
2. The driver will be able to testify definitely as to the functioning of the lights.
3. Details in the report are apt to be more accurate.

There were several fatalities in our Province last year involving stopped school buses. We hope the suggestions contained herein will be passed on to all Bus Drivers in the hope that they might prevent even one such accident."

Yours truly,
Eldon A. Dahl.

It was moved and carried that the letter from Jubilee Insurance Agencies regarding vehicles passing stopped school buses be referred to the Highway Traffic Board for comment.

It was moved and carried that Mr. R. A. Bailey's report on the Devon School be accepted for information.

Mr. T. E. Harrison came to speak to the School Committee on "Industrial Education Performance Contracting Research Project".

This is an Innovative Project designed to assist school jurisdictions in establishing new Industrial Education Programs at minimum cost. Mr. T. E. Harrison showed slides to the School Committee and this matter was discussed at great length.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

Rural Alberta has suffered from a chronic shortage of mortgage money for housing, but the provincial government is launching a new lending program designed to alleviate the problem.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and conventional lenders have been unwilling to provide housing funds outside major urban centres, so Municipal Affairs Minister Fred Colborne is trying to plug the gap with a direct provincial lending plan.

The program, under which eligible residents will be able to borrow up to $18,000 from the Alberta Housing Corporation at existing interest rates, is supposed to provide accommodation for employees of new industries being subsidized under Alberta's new Industrial Incentives program.

It will also make it possible for persons wishing to escape the hectic struggle of life in cities to build homes in smaller centres, whether they receive new jobs from the rural industrialization scheme or not.

To be eligible for provincial loans, an individual will have to provide evidence that CMHC and at least one conventional lender turned down his mortgage application.

The applicant must own the site for this home or hold a long-term lease on it and provide a 5 per cent down payment in cash, land or labor to qualify for the mortgage money. Mortgages will be available for 95 per cent of the lending value of the housing unit to a maximum of $18,000 for a term of up to 35 years.

Mr. Colborne explains the direct lending program is aimed at middle-income and rural Albertans who have been bypassed by the various housing schemes advanced by governments at all levels in recent years.

In addition to pumping house mortgage money into the system, the Social Credit administration is preparing a home improvement loan scheme to spur upgrading of older residential districts across Alberta.

The program was originally suggested by Calgary Mayor Rod Sykes to breathe new life into old neighborhoods. Virtually all permanent alterations or additions to existing housing units can be financed by the home improvement loans to a maximum of $6,000 for a term of up to 10 years.

The Alberta Housing Corporation is planning to open offices in Calgary and Peace River to handle mortgage applications and information requests on the new plan. It already has offices in Edmonton, Slave Lake and Lac La Biche.

Opposition Conservative reaction to the lending program was favorable, although Tory urban affairs critic David Russell thinks the home improvement loan scheme could be greatly enhanced.

For example, Mr. Russell suggests persons borrowing money for residential improvements should receive a five-year moratorium on property tax assessment increases resulting from the upgrading projects.

He also believes municiapl governments could build parks and take other steps to improve residential neighborhoods benefitting from the new loan money.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

Routine business and routine, repetitious questions have dominated the Parliamentary scene lately.

Legislation being debated in the last two weeks has centred largely on agriculture. Three bills are presently before the House which deal with the grain trade. The bill concerning marketing agencies, Bill C-176, for the moment at least, is not being presented for debate.

Typical of other bills now before Parliament, is the bill respecting Pilotage. It will provide for the safety of ships moving through Canadian coastal waters. Important, but hardly the kind of subject that excites the public, particularly in Alberta.

One item of great interest to Albertans came up when the final report of the Royal Commission on Farm Machinery was tabled last week by the Minister of Agriculture Bud Olson. Hopefully, implementation of the Commission's recommendations will result in the lowering of the cost of machinery, which has been skyrocketing in recent years causing much of the economic difficulties experienced by Canadian farmers.

Two days were taken up in the House of Commons last week discussing the unemployment situation and one day was required to debate the resolution to establish a special committee on legislation to deal with emergencies caused by lawlessness and violence

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES -- Limits will be placed on the amounts of money which candidates are allowed to spend during an election soon. A special committee of which I am a member has been working on procedures and a formula to ensure that all candidates are made as equal as possible in future federal elections...By-elections are to be held in two Quebec ridings, one in Nova Scotia and one in Ontario, will bear watching...The Nova Scotia battle is particularly crucial for Opposition Leader Stanfield...It will test his strength in his backyard...If the results show him weakening don't be surprised by any attempts made to drop him...The plans are already well laid.

SUMMARY

Receipts normal for the short holiday week. There were increased offerings of slaughter classes with replacements comprising approximately 70% of the cattle and calves on offer. In closing trade there were no high yielding kinds on offer, with sales topping 33.00 for choice kinds. Choice butcher steers under 1000# sold under discounts up to 1.00. Increased offerings of butcher heifers sold slow most of the week, especially the lighter weights (725 - 800#) were sharply discounted a full 1.00. There were only a few sales over 30.00 for choice kinds with one package averaging 930# selling for 30.50. Butcher cows opened strong 25 - 50 higher for good and medium kinds but were uneven to 50 lower at mid-week, however, closing prices were strong to 50 higher with a few good conditioned dry feds topping 22.50. Political Forum Planned for Interaction Congress Meeting

The May meeting of the Community Interaction Congress was held at the Parkland Regional Recreation Office on May 6, 1971, from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. with 9 members present, representing the Stony Plain Chamber of Commerce, Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation, Department of Agriculture, Department of Social Development and Parkland Regional Recreation Council.

Mr. Darwin Park, District Youth Representative, chaired the meeting, with Mr. Doug Laurie, President of the Stony Plain Chamber of Commerce, on the "Hot Seat", who explained the role of the Chamber of Commerce and its function.

The Stony Plain Chamber of Commerce Constitution of 1956 states that the Chamber is to function for the good of the community, whether it be the farming community, the employee, the employer, or the average citizen. It is therefore the purpose of stimulating interest and activities within the community. All these things cannot be done without the people's general interest in some organization. It is difficult to do things on your own, but projects become much more effective in a group.

The Chamber has been working on a number of projects throughout the years, such as: Farmer's Day in Stony Plain, which is solely sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce; Co-sponsorship of the 4-H Beef Show and Sale; Co-sponsorship of Annual Christmas Santa Claus Day, in conjunction with Service Clubs in Stony Plain; Co-sponsorship with the Horticultural Society presents a trophy to the town winner; Presentation of a trophy to the high standing Commercial Student at the Graduation Exercises; Christmas Street Lighting; Under the auspices of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, all of the Chambers of Commerce throughout Alberta are asked to choose a Delegate for the Farm Family Award and Spruce Grove and Stony Plain Chambers take turns in sponsoring a Delegate for the Award. This year it is Spruce Grove's turn; They are involved in the preservation of Stony Plain as an active and viable community to see that business is very much alive and to make people aware of the potential Stony Plain has; and They are interested in increasing the employment potential for rural young people through industrial and commercial expansion. Most farms cannot support two families, but with the father or son working in industry part time it would help to subsidize two families and encourage the young generation to stay on the family farm.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH

The "Opportunities for Youth" Committee has been revitalized by word received from the Secretary of State in Ottawa that two projects have definitely been approved. One of the projects is called "Know Your Neighbor", which is a sign painting and Historical project, hiring 23 students at $250.00 per month for July and August.

The other project accepted is a Park Improvement Program for Entwistle. It is expected that approval will soon come through for the Hasse Lake Improvement Project.

POLITICAL FORUM

The next Community Interaction Congress meeting will be on June 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Elks Hall in Stony Plain, with Mr. Ralph Jesperson representing the Alberta Social Credit Party, Mr. Bill Purdy representing the Alberta Progressive Conservative Party, and Mr. Mike Crowson representing the Alberta New Democratic Party, on the "Hot Seat". They will each have an opportunity to give their views on: Economics; Agricultural Policies; Welfare and Social Assistance Policies; Recreation; Youth Services; Employment; Native Policies; Tourism; and Education.

They will be available to answer questions from the audience.

Mr. Doug Laurie, President of the Stony Plain Chamber of Commerce, will be the Chairman for the evening and everyone is urged to attend.

Character is revealed by what we fall for, as well as what we stand for.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

It is getting near the close of another school year. My husband and I have a feeling that we would like to send our twelve year old boy to a residential school somewhere. We do not know where any of these institutions are located, and would like you to suggest schools to us. It doesn't matter whether they are operated under the auspices of the Catholic or any other Church. We would just like to make this move for him.

Dear Parent:

Before I make any suggestions regarding schools, I wonder why you feel that this is the right move for a twelve year old? This kind of wrenching from the home situation is a pretty drastic step for a boy of this age, or of any age. Don't kid yourself that such a place is a "home away from Home". I don't mean by this that they do not provide a real answer to a need, but they are not home. I know it for I was the principal of such an institution for six years. What is more, a twelve year old will often read into such a move that his parents are really rejecting him, and this thought dwells and grows so that the accumulated bitterness colors the rest of his entire life. I would suggest, therefore, that you seek some counselling assistance for this boy before you ever make this step. Begin with the school counsellor or principal and really look at this boy. Have him relate to the counsellor in your absence, and give the counsellor a chance to find out what the boy really thinks of this idea. If he wants it to happen, then write me again and I'll be happy to send the names of half a dozen schools where he might go.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I've come to a point. I just don't know what to do or where to turn. I've been married for 21 years. We have four children. Two of them are married. The youngest is twelve. About a year ago for some unknown reason, I fell in love with another man. He is married. We both know nothing can come of this. But I don't seem to be able to control my feelings. I feel that I don't love my husband any more. At this point, the only thing I'm living for is when I can see this other man. And I don't mean alone. I mean just to see him walking by the house. I feel so much that I'm just pretending to be a wife to my husband. And yet I know I would hurt him terribly, if I told him. He is a good man, on the whole, and a good provider. At this point I wish I was dead.

Dear Desperate Wife:

You know, it is very easy to fall in love with an image of what the other person really is. It is like sitting a movie theatre and comparing that run-of-the-mill man beside you with the film star on the screen. By that standard, poor hubby doesn't come out very well. Even if you married the movie star, he wouldn't act the way you see him on the screen. You see, marriage is a total life. Not just sex or money, or family. It is what Dr. Fritz Kunkel prefers to call the "we-feeling". In other words, happiness is being together. And most assuredly, in rural living, there must be many, many things you and your husband have in common. Count these blessings. Talk to your clergyman or a counsellor about the total view of marriage, and don't forget our general failing is to judge that the grass on the other side of the fence is the greener.

You'll marry me if I save you from what?

I'll be yours forever if you promise to protect me from housewife's clump.

Talk it over!

COLOR EXTENSION PHONES DO A LOT FOR A LITTLE

Demand liberation from housewife's clump.

You know how it is. You're upstairs and the phone rings. And it's clump, clump, clump down every step. Well tell your husband (or husband-to-be) about it. But don't stop there. Protest.

Ask him where he'd be without the privacy an extension phone gives him at work. Then tell him you'd like some privacy too. Remind him that a home extension phone gives everyone "their own private corner of the world".

If he doesn't listen, if he doesn't promise to get you a colorful, color extension phone, for as little as $1.25 a month, threaten to learn Karate.

In Drayton Valley each Wednesday at Sekura Auction Mart from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

First a brief report about the official opening and field day at the Alberta Beef Cattle Test Station at Ellerslie which included cattle from this area.

One hundred forty day results at the station were: all bulls averaged 2.84 lbs./day; 79 Hereford 2.82 lbs./day; 54 Angus 2.58 lbs/day; 33 Charolais 3.20 lbs./day; 19 Commercial 3.14 lbs./day; and 10 Shorthorn 2.72 lbs./day.

Ninety head of these top performing bulls were nominated for the sale. Sixty-one head sold for an average of $734.00.

For those feeding beef, sheep or swine, they may be interested in attending the feeders day on June 5th at 116 Street and 71 Avenue, Edmonton. It includes 1970-71 research reports on feeding, breeding and physiology of cattle and swine. Lunch will be available on the grounds. Programs can be obtained from this office.

Due to unseasonably dry weather over the past several weeks wild oats control is being accomplished by delaying seeding by a large number of producers.

This is effective if June is also warm enough to discourage wild oats germination after the crop has been seeded in June. Hopefully, we will not have these conditions all throughout June. Furthermore, a cool June during the last four years has resulted in an abnormally high wild oat germination rate, even in fields that were seeded late.

When you want to grow higher yielding, late maturing barley varieties or other crops that must be seeded early, perhaps pre-emergence herbicides avedex and avedex b w, or the post-emergence herbicide carbyne can be seriously considered.

A relatively new herbicide, trifluranlin, sold under the trade name treflan can be used as a pre-emergence treatment for controlling wild oats, green foxtail and certain broadleafed weeds in rapeseed.

W. Lobay, head of the Provincial Week Control Branch stresses that proper incorporation of this chemical is very important.

Wild oat herbicides are an important tool in crop production. When used for the purpose for which they are recommended and properly applied, they should give profitable returns without causing any hazards.

Information about crops on which wild oat herbicides can be safely used, recommended rates and effective methods of application can be obtained from your district agriculturists.

PRODUCTION PROMOTION BOOTH

This will also be in the arena, sponsored by the Department of Agriculture, a product promotion booth. The products rapeseed oil and honey will be on display to the consumer.

RAPESEED OIL

Rapeseed oil has gained rapid ground in the food processing industries as well as with the consumer. The quality is high and the price is right. Major Alberta brands of rapeseed oil are Capri, Wests and Burns. Check for these on your grocery shelf.

HONEY

Honey is another Alberta product which can be used in many varied ways. Add it to a cake mix, honey syrup for freezing, use it as a spread, use it in place of other sweetners. Cooking with honey is fun and challenging whether you are an experienced cook or a new one. Come to the arena June 11th, for the Baking Contest as well as the Alberta Products Promotion Booth. Entry lists for the Baking Contest can be found at the Town House Fashions or at this office.

St. Anthony's Setting For Spring Ceremony

St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely wedding May 8th, as Trudy Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Van De Castel of Berrymoor was married to James Andrew Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Jackson, of Drayton Valley.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Father Edward Lynch.

The bride chose a floor length gown of poi d'elegance with embroidered lace and small buttons accenting the front of the dress. The pill box headpiece was trimmed with the same lace as that on the neckline of the gown; her veil formed a train behind her as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. She carried orange carnations with white daisies.

The bride's attendants were the sister of the groom and matron of honor, Mrs. Colleen Bills, and friends, Mrs. June Fagan and Miss Pat Wince. The attendants wore identical jumpsuits of gold with flowered sleeveless coats of gold, orange and green with attached hoods. They carried side bouquets of daisies, fern and stems of wheat.

The bride's mother chose a blue and beige two-piece suit. To accent her outfit she wore a pink rose corsage and beige accessories. The groom's mother chose a two-piece suit of yellow floral and off-white. To accent her outfit she wore a dark yellow rose corsage and beige accessories.

Attending the groom were Brian Brennen, Dennis Johnston, and Dennis Riopel; Ushers were Joe Van De Castle, brother of the bride, and Paddy Fraser, cousing of the groom.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haste of Beaver Crossing, Aunt and Uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. F. F Fraser of Edmonton, Aunt and Uncle of the groom; Mrs. Belinda Alton of Lacombe, Aunt of the groom; and numerous cousins from Saskatchewan, Edmonton and Lacombe.

The wedding music was played by Glen Swanland of Drayton Valley.

Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Dale Dvorack of Edmonton and surprise speaker, Mr. C. C. Bevan of Drayton Valley.

A reception and dance was held in Drayton Valley at the Elks Hall before the couple left for their honeymoon in B. C.

For a going away outfit the bride chose a two-piece pantsuit of navy and white fortrel with white accessories. Her corsage was a red feathered carnation.

The couple will make their home in Drayton Valley.

Achievement Day Planned July 1st

The regular meeting of the Tomahawk 4-H Beef Club was held on May 11th at the home of Mr. Emil Jouan.

There were two ball games Monday evening at the school grounds. The Alder Flats ladies beat the Buck Lake ladies 12-11 and the Alder Flats men won over the Winfield men by a score of 20-11.

Philip Dunn of Edmonton was home the weekend of the Achievement banquet to attend the activities.

Paul Simon left Thursday, May 13th for Salinten, Germany to spend two weeks with his parents and relatives. Ella, Dennis and Sherry took Paul to the airport to see him off.

Compliments go out to Dwayne Tugwell and Dexter Johnson on their fine achievements at the Pigeon Lake Tack Meet, Thursday, May 20th. They both won the Class Winner Ribbon along with two firsts and two seconds. They will be competing in the Track and Field Meet at Camrose Saturday, May 29th. If they do as well there it will be on to Calgary for them. Best of luck boys.

Shayne Clemmer and Ross Larson both did well in receiving first ribbons.

Seely's Esso Service has installed a coin-operated car wash. The first customer to use it was Mr. Hap Schauerte. This is a great service added out here, it will be in constant use once the rain starts.

The Alder Flats Community Association had a meeting Wednesday night and the main topic was getting the track ready for the June 19th sports day. An added feature for the day will be a Ladies' Ball Tournament. The Association held a clean-up or rock picking bee on Thursday night on the grounds. There is a lot of work left to get the grounds ready - so any available help would be appreciated.

There are two Delhi houses going up quickly on the lot across from Pearson's. A road to an oil lease is being made by Kiss Construction one and a half miles south of the Esso station. The oil lease is on Benny Chapchuk's quarter.

The grades 7 - 10 students were bused by Darrel Hammond and Leigh Miller on Wednesday to watch the controlled oil spill tests on the North Saskatchewan River, south of Drayton Valley. Hayduks Transport had one of their trucks in operation Tuesday, by Dennis Maciborsky.

Tractor Club Plans Picnic to End Year

A special meeting of the Sixteen-A 4-H Tractor Club was held on May 19th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bruner of Evansburg.

A bake sale is to be held in Wildwood on May 22nd in Bill's Buywell Store starting at 1:00 p.m. Each member is to bring two items.

Mr. Stephens, from Evansburg brought the tractor from camp He-Ho-Ha for us to work on. It has been decided that the ones that are working for credits will work on the tractor on Wednesday nights and the other members will work on it whenever they have time, but preferably on Sunday nights.

Since it is only our first year as a club, we all decided that we would not build a float for the Edmonton Exhibition.

We are holding a year-end picnic party at the Pembina Provincial Park for the members and their families plus one friend for each member. The party will be on Sunday, May 30th starting at 1:00 p.m. Zane Bruner, our secretary, is to order all we need. We hope everyone will enjoy themselves.

Winners from the Achievement Day, and from the year's work, have not been picked yet because the books had to be marked and a scoring card from each member handed in. Each member scored all of the other members on Willingness, Leadership, Project Work and others.

After the meeting, and the scoring cards were finished, a delicious lunch was served.

Experiments conducted at the Canada Agriculture Research Station at Lennoxville, Quebec, last summer show that farmers can increase milk production by nitrogen fertilization of pastures. Gaspard Lalande, one of the scientists conducting these experiments, says the best results were obtained from a field which received 200 pounds of nitrogen as a top dressing during the summer.
